

The Fact Remains

No amount of misrepresentation by the peddlers of alum baking powders, no juggling with chemicals, or pretended analysis, or cooked-up certificates, or falsehoods of any kind, can change the fact that

Royal Baking Powder has been found by the official examinations to be of the highest leavening efficiency, free from alum, and of absolute purity and wholesomeness.

Royal Baking Powder is indispensable for making finest and most economical food.

Local Mention.

Let us have a sane fourth.

Western Kentucky is plump full of Chautauquas just now.

Porch swings, chairs and rockers, in greatest variety at Roark's.

The only June rise we have had this year has been in temperature.

Messrs. W. H. Brizendine and Orien L. Roark were in Dawson Springs last Sunday.

Mrs. H. Morton was in Drakesboro visiting friends the latter part of the week.

Mrs. J. W. North, of Louisville, is spending a few days with her parents Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Christian of this city.

Miss Isma Mason of Beaver Dam, visited the family of Mr. D. W. Christian latter part of the week.

There is an old saying "a dry June for a good crop year." But this does not hold good if it has been preceded by dry April and May and followed by bilstery, blighting July and August.

Summer began at 12:55 last Monday morning, and now that spring has passed, we may expect to have some warm weather, in line with the season.

There has not been a single case of typhoid fever in town this year, and from the general determination to maintain sanitary conditions, on the part of every inhabitant it is hoped we may escape this dread disease entirely.

Mrs. Bettie Bivins died at her home ten miles south of town last Sunday afternoon, and was buried at New Harmony church, in Todd county, at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon. The funeral service was delivered by Rev. Sweeney, and there was a very large gathering of relatives and friends to the service.

Wheat has all been cut, and threshing is now in progress, with the report of largest yield and highest quality ever known. The price for June delivery through this section has been placed at 75 cents, but little will be sold at that price, it is thought.

Mr. John McGee, of near New Harmony church, in Todd county, has a novel show that attracts the attention of every passerby. It is a field which has the crop of two years on the land. Last year's corn crop is in the shock, as is this season's wheat, and the unusual sight is noted by everyone.

There is being more intelligent, permanent work done on Muhlenberg highways this season than ever before. Roads are being straightened and widened, grades are reduced, drainage cared for, culverts and bridges made permanent, and the work in every way surpassing anything that has heretofore been done. The people are demanding better service, and are seeing that they get it.

The Great Mexican War.

The Queen Theatre has booked for Thursday this week "The Great Mexican War" in four reels, showing the battles of Juarez, Tierra Blanca, Mesa and Ojinago, and the horrifying results of the Mexican War.

It will be a well spent hour and a half and a well spent dime to anyone to see these great war pictures. It gives you an idea of what has and is happening in our neighbor country today. When you see these pictures you will readily recall Gen. Sherman's famous remark "War is Hell." Don't miss it.

Notice to A. S. E. Members.

The regular term of the County Union will meet in Greenville on the first Thursday and Friday in July which is the 2nd and 3rd. All locals are requested to elect delegates to be present as business of importance will be transacted. It seems to me that there is a good prospect for farmers having wheat to lose money on the only crop left. Farmers who have wheat should see that every bushel in the county is pooled. Notify me and I will send pooling contracts at once.

Greenville has been entertaining scores of delegates from Western Kentucky to the District W. C. T. U. Convention, which met Tuesday afternoon and closed last night.

"Pilgrim's Progress" June 30.

Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress" will be shown in four reels at the Queen Theatre June 30, matinee 4 o'clock and two night shows.

This production is universally endorsed by America's most prominent ministers and leading newspaper men. Religious, profound, inspiring and powerful. The greatest triumph of the world's greatest film producer, exhibiting the "Passion Play." A Biblical spectacle acted by the best and most prominent actors. More inspiring to see the motion pictures than reading the book itself—Admission 10c.

Oh, you Calomel get out of the way and let LIV-VER-LAX do the work. Purely vegetable. Ask G. E. Countzler.

There is a wonderful balancing of affairs, as the dull times over the country placed an abundance of men in western fields, and the wheat crop is being saved in all its immensity. Even in lean years, when there has been less at stake, there have been heavy losses on account of sufficient labor.

Roark has the best thing in baby carts that you have seen, and the price is right.

Fire Destroys Tobacco Factory.

About 7:30 o'clock last Friday morning smoke was discovered in S. E. Rice Tobacco Co. building, near the depot, and flames soon had enveloped the upper floor. The concern had its own fire hose, and soon had two streams on the flames, but the fire continued to gain headway, and before any of the stock or equipment of any value could be saved, the roof had collapsed, filling the lower floors with fire, and the building was quickly reduced. There was a stiff breeze, and residences at a great distance were endangered by falling fagots, but there was no loss. This is the third building that has been burned on this site, the first time when Mr. E. Rice was the owner, and the two last times under present ownership. The origin of the fire is not positively known, but it is thought that birds caused the fire, as there were a great many nests in the loft, near the roof, and it was in that section where the flames were first seen. Insurance to the amount of $33,500 was carried on the building, stock, machinery and equipment, but this will leave a loss of something like $10,000 to the owners, besides a considerable loss of business that will ensue. The matter of rebuilding or buying a plant is now under consideration, and will soon be brought to a decision. The loss is a general one, as about 75 hands are thrown out of employment. This concern is one of the most active in the city, and has wonderfully developed its business in the past few years, so the misfortune is very serious to them.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Morgan motored to Bowling Green last Sunday, with Mrs. J. A. Rose and Duncan Stevens as their guests.

Work of Remodeling Old School Building Commenced.

The work of overhauling the old school building was started Monday, and a large force of carpenters and laborers is being used. Mr. Frank Richardson is the supervisor of the work, and home labor is being used exclusively, as should be done, when possible. Material is being placed on the grounds, and it is a certainty that this needed addition will be ready for use when school begins this fall. In addition to supplying more school rooms, there will be a modern auditorium, and the manual training department will have up-to-date quarters, and will be up to the standard, as well as a domestic science department. Nothing better could have been done by the people of the town than the furnishing of this much needed building.

A Louisville cleaning and pressing shop advertises "Palm Beach suits cleaned and pressed, 75c; gent's suits cleaned and pressed, $1.00." Perhaps the distinction is proper, but we imagine there are few P. B. suits handled by the concern.

Tobacco Pooling Knocked Out.

The United States Supreme Court last Monday annulled the Kentucky statute allowing farmers to pool tobacco, declaring the law to be unconstitutional. This is far-reaching, and will prohibit the pooling of any crop or commodity, and means much to the farmers of the State, as uniform prices at a higher level have been secured under the operations of this law. The decision of the court was unexpected, as the matter had been held legal in all the lower courts.

Work at the mines is picking up a little.

The ice plant is being pushed to the limit, but is able to fill all orders.

The tobacco crop offers no hopes now, to most people who had planned to raise the weed, and unless it rains in a few days, there will be a cutting down of crop prospects.

Now we will have an opportunity to enjoy the sprinkling of the streets with oil.

Talk about your dust down, we will soon have it, even if it does not rain.

Notice the call for the school bonds, and if you have any of the numbers listed surrender them, as interest will stop July 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Roark are in Oxnoboro attending the Chautauqua, guests of Dr. J. M. Stuart and family.

Uncle Henry Clark Dies.

Uncle Henry Clark, colored died at his home in the west end at 2 o'clock yesterday morning, after an illness of about two weeks. He was 89 years old, one of the oldest inhabitants of the town, and widely known. Most of his life was spent here, and he had worked in tobacco factories ever since the industry was started here. Burial was in Fairmount cemetery yesterday afternoon and was largely attended.

Messrs. Irvin & Gilman are expecting another carload of Ford cars in a few days, and are ready for them, as they are entirely out now, and have several sales practically closed. In fact, there is every likelihood that the fall season will be as heavy as the spring has been.

Miss Edna Morgan, of Madisonville, is spending the week with her aunt, Mrs. Jennie E. Roark.

Outdoor sleepers are getting to be a numerous tribe.

Delirium.

When all parts of the brain work properly together, our consciousness of what is going on in the world around us is an orderly one; that is, as the doctors say, "properly coordinated." But if that coordination is disturbed, the consciousness gets muddled, things lose their relation to one another, and everything becomes topsy-turvy. That condition is called delirium, from the Latin word for crazy, and it is not a disease in itself, but a symptom that may complicate many diseases.

It may accompany some grave brain trouble such as abscess or tumor, it is seen in many forms of insanity. In the form of delirium tremens, it follows acute poisoning by alcohol. Then there are delirium that complicate such acute infectious diseases as typhoid fever, pneumonia, diphtheria, and scarlet fever. Moreover delirium is often produced by poisons in the system not only by poisons taken into the system, but poisons formed by the system itself, as in various kidney diseases, in which the body loses its usual power to eliminate its injurious products or to counteract them chemically. There is also the delirium of collapse, which is seen in the later stages of starvation, or of extreme exhaustion.

The cause that underlies a case of delirium must first be found, because the treatment will vary in accordance with it. Few of us are called on to deal with delirium tremens, or with the delirium of starvation, or with that terrible form known as acute delirious mania, which generally ends in death. But the delirium that accompanies typhoid fever, pneumonia, or the acute infectious fevers of childhood is of common occurrence, and it is well to know that much can be done to prevent it, or to bring relief after it has begun. Sedative treatment, such as a warm bath with cold applications to the head, will oftentimes ward off an attack; but when there is great prostration of strength, stimulation is usually necessary. Delirium is always exhausting; see that the patient's strength is kept up as far as possible. And never leave a delirious patient alone, even for a minute. There are too many cases of sick people falling from open windows.

W. C. T. U. District Convention.

Greenville has had the honor this week of entertaining a body of notable women, officers and delegates attending the annual district convention of the W. C. T. U., which convened Tuesday afternoon and closed last night, a varied and interesting program being enjoyed by large audiences, despite the extremely hot weather. Mrs. M. M. Day, of Dawson Springs, president, conducted the affairs of the convention with ability, and was responsible in great measure for the success of the meet. Mrs. Frances Beauchamp, of Lexington, was a notable visitor, and her talks and discussions were a delight to every listener.
